Miss Alice Joy motored home from her Coalinga school, Monday, in her new Ford. In this manner she was sure to arrive in time to welcome her brother and family.

D. W. Waite, of Watsonville, was here Monday visiting friends and relatives. He plans to go to Minneapolis the first of June to spend several months with relatives about his old home haunts.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Husted returned Monday from a two-weeks' trip to Los Angeles, coming by way of the Yosemite. They say it is a most wonderful sight at this season, because of the large quantities of water on the various falls.

The annual meeting of the County Committee of the Y. M. C. A. of Santa Clara County has been postponed one week—from May 28 to June 4. Prof. Arthur Bonner, of the College of the Pacific, will be the chief speaker.

Roi Leine has instituted, and will probably take out letters-of-patent, for a new and unique sport, the popularity of which will depend on the location of said sportsman. This new pastime has been dubbed "lizzard hooking." Ask Roi how it's done.

Mrs. M. J. Kenfield was a Campbell visitor over Sunday, looking over the J. C. Ainsley Packing plant, where she will resume her duties as forewoman at the opening of the canning season. She returned to Hollister to celebrate her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary with her daughter, Tuesday.

The British Men's Social Club held an enjoyable banquet at Hotel St. James, on Empire Day, May 24. Those who attended from Campbell were: Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Portus, Miss Falkner, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barron, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Crothers, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Berry, E. A. Brydon, W. E. Copley, W. R. Coupland, H. T. Hayward and E. A. Priestly.

New Officers Elected

The annual meeting of the Country Woman's Club, Monday, May 24, was very gratifying, showing a considerable increase in membership, a good attendance and interest in the programs presented and enthusiasm for the coming year.

The treasurer's report showed a total for the year of $186.68 in the current fund, with disbursements of $178.56, and a total of $1450 in the building fund.

The election of directors, and their choice of officers, was as follows:

President, Mrs. Ellen R. Smith.
Vice president, Mrs. Leigh Saunders.
Secretary, Miss Jessie Lewis.
Treasurer, Miss Mary Lewis.

Fifth Director, Mrs. W. H. Stray.

The program committee for the next year is: the chairman, Mrs. Stray, with Mesdames Snow, Blaine, Shaw and E. R. Kennedy.

The social time was largely spent in consideration of plans for the coming year, after which the directors served ice cream.

A general vote of thanks was extended to the ladies who were present, some at considerable inconvenience to themselves, thus making it possible to transact the yearly business with ease and dispatch.

Miss Lewis stated that the waste-paper drive resulted in the sum of $15.56, and thanks of the club were extended to Mr. J. B. Strong, who had the material taken to San Jose in the Farmers' Union truck, and also to those who brought the papers and magazines.

As several were unable to bring their donations on the date set, there will be another drive on June 12. Save magazines and papers until that date. At present the situation is reversed, magazines bringing the higher price, but both are worth while.

Campbell's Part In Consolidation

In considering consolidation of the Campbell and San Tomas Districts, many are asking just what Campbell's part will be.

What things of value has Campbell District to offer to the consolidated district, and what benefits will Campbell receive in return?

As a matter of fact the Campbell district will gain less by consolidation than San Tomas, because Campbell has already been bonded to build a fine, up-to-date school building, and expects to go right on equipping her school to do better and better work, whether consolidation takes place or does not. Some four or five years ago the people of the district awoke to the fact that they must have a better school, and since that time have set themselves to accomplish their purpose. The struggle has not been in vain.

What, then, has Campbell to offer to the consolidated district?

First, and most important of all, a well organized school, a result of this fine spirit of enthusiasm in her people, their will to give the children, for whose education they are responsible, a square deal, so that they shall go forth fully equipped to compete with the children educated in other parts of the state.

Second, a share in our new building, which has room enough to house the two districts.

The new building is:

1. Large and commodious.
2. Is properly heated.
3. Is properly ventilated.
4. Is properly lighted.
5. It has sanitary drinking fountains, with water from a pure supply.
6. Toilet facilities the best to be had.
7. Has a large hall (350 people capacity) that can be used as a play-room in bad weather.

8. Is equipped with a moving picture machine, thereby giving the children a chance to see the educational films sent out by the University.

9. It has a large playground, where all sizes and classes of pupils may play without interference from others. Also, enough equipment for games to make a happy playground.

Third, five teachers. The association of several teachers in a school lends energy, inspiration and enthusiasm that cannot be had in a one-teacher school. One teacher, plodding alone in a small school, has as little incentive to do her best, as one child in a class by himself has.

Fourth, (a) five-sixths of the teacher's salaries; (b) five-sixths of the running expenses of the school; (c) a school site; (d) eight-elevenths of the expense of transporting pupils from other districts; (e) eight-elevenths of the cost of the building, part of which has been paid.

Financially, the outside district would pay: (a) three-elevenths of the teachers' salaries; (b) none of the running expenses; (c) three-elevenths of the transportation expenses; (d) three-elevenths of the cost of the building; three-elevenths of what remains to be paid on the building.

The interest on the bonds for the last four years has been paid by Campbell, and the school has only had two years' use of the building. Also part of the bonds have been paid.

The present sites and buildings in the outside districts would be retained, to insure them a place for a school in case they ever wish to withdraw from the consolidated school.

Would Campbell's tax be less if consolidated on takes place?

No. The same. What we gain on the bonds, we will pay out for transportation. Transportation is provided for in the regular school funds.

Home Again

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Duncan, Mrs. Groff and Bert Duncan, returned from their two-weeks' motor trip through the southern part of the state Saturday evening. They enjoyed a great outing, saw lots of good and bad territory, visiting at Los Angeles, San Diego and El Centro, Mr. Duncan's brother, Will, living at the latter place. It is just beginning to warm up down there, registering near the 100 mark already. Eggs hatch without a hen there. A remarkable record run was made, covering 1540 miles without removing a tire, which speaks very strongly of the good roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Joy and children arrived from New York Tuesday. Mr. Joy will resume his former position in San Francisco at a substantial salary increase. On their arrival in Oakland they were met by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ross, who brought them to the Mr. Joy home on Rincon avenue, for a family reunion dinner. Mrs. Joy, and children, will remain here until they may move to their home in Berkeley.

LEVI P. MORTON CALLED BY DEATH

Vice-President Under Harrison— Statesman Passes on His Birthday

Rhinebeck, N. Y.—Levi P. Morton, who was Vice President during the presidency of Benjamin Harrison, from 1889 to 1893, and governor of New York state from 1895 to 1897, died May 16, which was his ninety-sixth birthday, of bronchial pneumonia.

Morton was taken ill with a slight cold three days before his death.

With him at his bedside when he died were his daughter, Miss Helen Morton, who had made her home with him at Ellerslie, his country estate, since the death of Mrs. Morton Sr., in August 1918; his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Eustis of Washington and his nephew, Morton Minot. Another daughter, Miss Mary Morton of Germantown, Pa., arrived May 17.

May 15 had been a joyous one to Morton. More than 150 children of the Rhinebeck schools were his guests. The entire day he devoted to the children. Morton was wrapped up in the children and notified all that it was children's day. He had instructed his employees to provide prizes for the children, and a regular field day was arranged on the spacious lawns of Ellerslie.

Although Levi Parsons Morton came to New York City in 1854, he did not enter politics until 1876, when he ran for Congress and was elected. Before that time he had devoted himself entirely to business and had amassed a large fortune.

Young Morton worked in a counting store, went to night school and kept a general store in Hanover, N. H., where he built up a superb business. After four years in a store of his own in Concord, N. H., he moved to Boston and became connected with the dry firm of James M. Beebe & Co. In 1854 he came to New York and founded the dry goods house of Morton & Grinnell, which suspended after the panic of 1857, settling for 50 cents on the dollar.

Morton soon after this founded the banking house of Morton, Bliss & Co. One evening in 1863 he invited all the creditors of Morton & Grinnell to dinner. Beside his plate each guest found a check for the amount due him morally, though not legally, from the suspended firm.

The next 13 years Morton devoted to business. In 1868 he was a member of the syndicate that helped the government resume specie payments. In 1878 he was elected to Congress by a great majority.

President Garfield sent him as minister to France in 1881—he had previously declined the nomination for the Vice Presidency—and he served four years, becoming very popular in Paris through his lavish entertainments.

In 1885 and in 1887 he was defeated for the United States Senate, but in 1888 he was elected Vice President on the Harrison ticket. He did not get a renomination in 1892, but in 1894 was elected governor of New York by about 130,000 plurality.

Since then until very recent years he had devoted himself actively to business. Morton was twice married. His first wife died in 1871, and in 1873 he married Miss Anna Livingston Street. One of the daughters, Helen, married Count Bosen de Talleyrand-Perigord, who afterward became Duke of Valencay. She divorced him in 1904.

EX-GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA FOUND DEAD

Winnipeg.—Robert B. Glenn, former governor of North Carolina and a member of the International Great Waterways Commission, was found dead in bed at the Royal Alexandra hotel here May 16.

Death was due to heart disease. Over exertion on the commission's tour of investigation of the St. Lawrence deep water project hastened his death, it was said.

San Jose.—Two motions in the divorce case of Walter Travis, local jeweler, against his wife, Mrs. Vera Travis, have been submitted to Judge J. A. Bardin of Salinas, who heard the case in this city several months ago. The first motion was made through the attorneys for Travis, asking for a new trial, and the second asks temporary custody of the Travis child, Jane, aged 5. Travis declares his wife has refused to allow him to see the girl alone, and has taken her to San Francisco despite the order of the court. Attorneys for Mrs. Travis opposed the motions and briefs have been filed by both sides.

PROFIT ON SUIT OF CLOTHES NEARLY DOUBLE COST OF MANUFACTURE

Considering It Unwise to Raise Skirts, the Manufacturers Will Lower Them, But Not in Price

Washington.—The total cost of a suit of men's clothes, exclusive of all profits, is but little more than half the price exacted by the retailer from the purchaser, according to a survey of profiteering in the clothing industry made public here by W. Jett Lauck, formerly secretary of the War Labor Board, and now consulting economist for the railroad unions in their fight for a living wage.

The staple sack suit, made of medium-priced wool, which sold in 1910, for $25, today is retailing for $65, said Lauck. The cost of manufacturing this suit, including everything from wool to transportation, is today $37.36, so that profits are absorbing $27.64 of the $65 paid by the consumer. The retailer makes the greatest proportion of profit, obtaining in the case of a $65 suit the sum of $22.77. Lauck said:

"The country has been made to believe, as in every other case where the opportunity offered, that labor's demand for increased wages has been responsible for the soaring prices. But as in practically every other industry where profiteering is rampant, it can be proved conclusively that the guilt is ascribed to price juggling and not to wage demands.

"At present the labor cost in producing a suit of clothes is only 20 per cent of the price taken from the consumer, while 10 years ago the purchase price included a bill of 22 per cent to labor."

High Food Price to Continue
Springfield, Ill.—The American people will pay high prices for food for some time, in the judgment of Charles Adkins, State Director of Agriculture.

In a statement issued May 16 Adkins declared that scarcity of foodstuffs this year will halt a reduction in prices. He says no country in the world will harvest a normal wheat crop and that the old crop of wheat will be exhausted when the new crop comes in.

Predicting that bread tickets may be necessary in the United States, Adkins says bread will be no cheaper in the near future. The statement says:

"Some politicians tell the people that prices for all commodities are fixed by corrupt combines of speculators, and if they get in power they will reduce the cost of living. Our great consuming masses should be advised, instead of being harangued by some demagogue into the belief that by waving some magic economic wand he can reduce the cost of living.

"The mortality of all classes of livestock during the winter was higher than usual, because of the scarcity and high prices of feed. The spring pig crop will be greatly reduced by cold weather. Money lost feeding livestock recently will not have a tendency to stimulate feeders. While we have a more liberal supply of meat than bread, yet if the meat is produced for less money it means a greater loss to the producer.

"The same thing is true of dairy products. There is no substitute for dairy products for babies and young animals. The hope of cheaper dairy products under present conditions is remote indeed.

Skirts Going Down
Cleveland, O.—Skirts are coming down, but not in price. In the opinion of the National Cloak and Suit Manufacturers' Association, in convention here, skirts have reached a precarious height, and it is considered unwise to raise them higher.

Styles for the fall and winter call for conservative models and slender designs to give women folk that youthful appearance, said Brintz. Prices cannot fall along with the skirt, because the cost of materials still is abnormally high.

OMAHA STORES CUT PRICES 20 PER CENT

OMAHA, Neb.—A large department store and a large clothing store May 15 announced flat reductions of 20 per cent on their entire stocks.

Condensed California News

Lakeport.—Superior Judge M. S. Sayre has announced his candidacy for re-election.

San Francisco.—Falling asleep and leaving a burning candle near his pillow, John Watts, 75 years old, residing in a small shack at the rear of 1526 Twenty-fifth avenue, in Oakland, received burns which proved fatal when the candle ignited his bed clothes early May 16.

Niles.—The engagement of Miss May Borges of Niles to Raymond K. Wilson of Minneapolis was announced here May 15 at a dinner at the former's home. The bride-to-be is a teacher in the Niles grammar school, while Wilson is a contractor in the eastern city. He spent 23 months in France with the United States army.

Santa Rosa.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the McCleary hotel, about 27 miles from here on the Russian river, May 16. The hotel was opened as a summer resort about a week ago and was filled with guests, who fled panic-stricken from the burning building. The postoffice, in an adjoining building, also was destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $20,000.

Sacramento.—Harry S. Maddox, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has received a letter from John A. Jordan of the United States air service stating that he will be in the city in a short time to take up the matter of building a transcontinental air station for the use of the air mail line to be established from New York to San Francisco.

Redwood City.—Mrs. Rosalie M. Brown, who was appointed a member of the Board of Supervisors to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, William H. Brown, announced that she would be a candidate to succeed herself. She will be the first woman in the history of San Mateo county to seek this office.

Petaluma.—The Petaluma Power and Water Company May 15 announced that all unnecessary uses of water must cease in order to conserve the supply for domestic purposes. This action has been expected, owing to the two dry seasons. Efforts have been made to secure land on which to drill wells, but many obstacles were met, and the prices asked for the land precluded the possibility of early work. Street sprinkling has been stopped for some time.

Sacramento.—Local vegetable dealers report shipments of all kinds of fresh vegetables as unusually heavy. Lettuce leads, with turnips second.

Placerville.—According to an announcement sent here by the State Railroad Commission, the hearing of the Diamond Ridge Water Company for an increase in rates originally scheduled for May 17 at San Francisco, has been postponed to June 3.

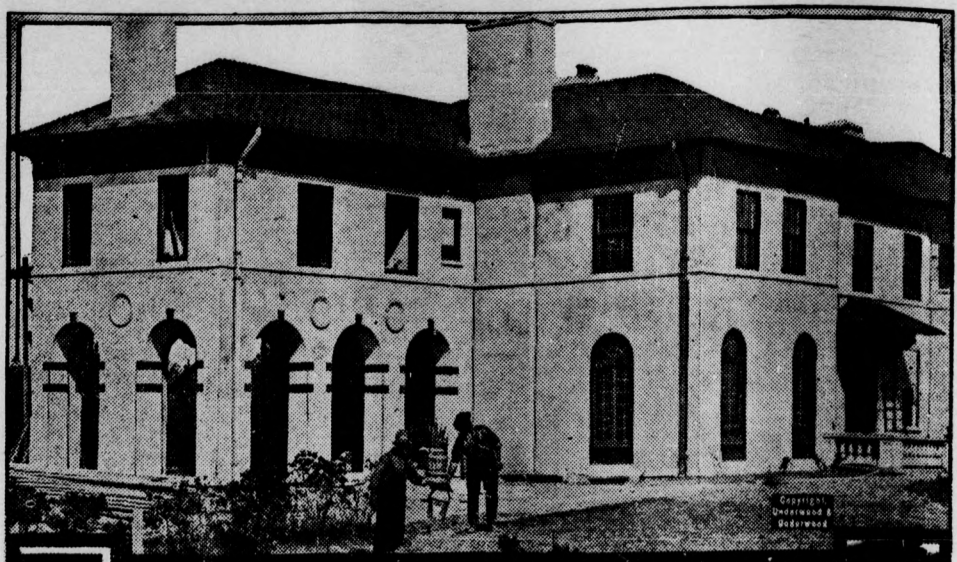

Visalia.—Officers of the State Sunday School Association were elected at the final session of the annual convention of the association here May 14. They are: N. N. Fritz, San Francisco, vice president; Silas W. Mack, Pacific Grove, recording secretary; A. E. Craig, Alameda, treasurer; A. J. Watson, San Mateo, auditor.

San Jose.—Walter G. Mathewson, local labor leader and staunch supporter of Hiram Johnson, has left for Oregon to take part in the primary there in behalf of the California senator. This will be the last Republican primary in any state before the Republican convention. Mathewson goes north to work among organized labor. He recently returned from Illinois, where he aided in the Johnson campaign.

Redding.—James McCoy is raising chickens and gold over on Old Diggings, the old gold camp across the river from Redding. He bought a little chicken ranch in a small canyon six months ago. In walking over his little domain he keeps his eyes peeled for gold nuggets. Last Friday he found one that went a little over $10 in gold. It had been scratched up by his chickens. Less than a month ago McCoy picked up a nugget that went a trifle over $18 in gold. All told, he has found nearly $100 worth of gold nuggets without having to dig for them.

Sebastopol.—After persons living upstairs in the building, attracted by groans, had battered down the doors of the telephone office, May 14, Miss Alvina Anderson, 24 years of age, night telephone operator, was found dying in agony on the floor. Miss Anderson died soon after Dr. J. D. Blackshaw arrived. According to Coroner F. H. Phillips of this county, the young woman committed suicide by drinking poison, first locking the doors. No cause is known for the tragic act. Miss Anderson lived with her parents in Santa Rosa.

WOULD SAVE HISTORIC HOME OF MARK TWAIN

Historic home of Mark Twain at Hartford, Conn., one of the oldest residences in New England, to save which a nation-wide movement has been started, interesting such bodies as the Chicago Art Institute and many others. Announcement of the destruction of the building, in which was written "Innocents Abroad" and other stories, has resulted in offers of financial aid from all over the country, the Hartford Art Society announces, but it is said that the present owners, who bought the property for $55,000 a few months ago, are demanding $300,000 for it. The state park commission has been asked to condemn the property for a state park to avoid paying this price.

Science Paves Way for Cure of Criminality

Specialist Declares That Most Criminals Are Not Responsible for Acts.

NEED MEDICAL TREATMENT

Connection Is Found Between Mental Irregularities and Blood Disturbances—Rapid Strides in Study of Mental Deficiency.

New York.—The elimination of 90 per cent of the criminality in the United States by proper medical attention given to children is the prediction of Dr. Max G. Schlapp of this city, an expert and specialist in mental deficiency cases and professor of neuropathology at the Post-Graduate hospital.

In an article published in the current issue of the Medical Record Doctor Schlapp goes into detail to show that in most cases of crime the person involved is not responsible for his acts, and moreover abhors the doing of the very things that have caused him to be sent to the state institutions of punishment and reform.

Briefly, Doctor Schlapp declares, there has been discovered a direct connection between mental irregularities and physical disturbances caused by chemical impurities in the blood, and it also has been found that these cases respond to counter-stimulations the principles of which are in certain chemicals and the extracts of animal glands.

"New tests are being tried out constantly," he told a reporter from the New York Tribune, "but it is necessary to conduct exhaustive research before each defective and criminal type can be identified and the correct treatment established."

New Field Opened.
He made it plain that he did not claim a cure-all for mental deficiency or criminality has been found, but his object was rather to state certain observations and conclusions based on the examination of 14,000 cases which open a new field of human abnormalities.

"Enough has been accomplished in the clearing house for mental deficiencies at the Post-Graduate hospital," he declared, "to warrant high hopes that the way has been pointed by which society can with assurance attack in a humane and common sense manner the greatest of its problems—criminality."

It is to the end that hospitals may be substituted for prisons and treatment for punishment in the cases of these unfortunates who are not responsible for their acts and who cannot help themselves that this work has been conducted for the last eight years by Doctor Schlapp.

In his article Doctor Schlapp says, in part:
"We still judge criminals and delinquents by their acts alone and to a large extent dispose of them legally on this basis. The general public, and even the courts, believe that a person of normal intellect can control his actions, and consequently that the actions of any person of normal intellect are premeditated, or at least controlled completely by the intellectual mental makeup, and that therefore the person is responsible.

No Question of Altruism.
"In the light of well established facts, known to psychiatrists for the last half century, this method of placing responsibility for criminal acts is basically erroneous and should be revised. We must learn to comprehend many abnormal classes hitherto unrecognized by society as subjects for study, control or aid.

"There is no question of altruism involved; a proper understanding and attitude toward these people who have no innate power of adjustment to their environment will make every home and family more nearly safe.

"You are acquainted—perhaps too well—with the boy who, surrounded by an affectionate family in a home of ease, runs away repeatedly, undergoes unnecessary hardships, and when brought back can never give any explanation for his acts except that he 'just wanted to get away.'

Juvenile Delinquency.
"You doubtless also have come into contact with those other well known types of juvenile delinquency—children who lie and practice petty thievery from their earliest years, later forge checks and generally involve their families in serious situations and in whose genealogical history there is no discernible trace of family propensity for similar actions.

"In another class are the thousands of tramps, possessing what is commonly called an aversion to work, who form an almost alien stratum of society, useless to themselves, and liable at any time to become a menace to the communities through which they pass.

"Still another class is composed of those unfortunate persons who because of abnormal emotional trends or phobias are forced to commit acts over which they have no intellectual control.

How Brain is Regulated.
"The first thing to be understood about these people is the fact that the pathological criminal or mental defective is unable to adjust himself normally to his environment for the very important reason that the motivating activities of his brain are seriously disturbed.

"To understand such disturbances it is first necessary to know that the motivating activities of the brain are regulated entirely by two antecedent processes—the intellectual and the emotional, or affective activities. If these two processes are well balanced, the motivating center will be stimulated in such a way as to make the individual adjust himself normally to his environment. Should this balance between the intellectual and the emotional processes be seriously disturbed, however, then it will be impossible for the individual to adjust himself normally and he will perpetrate acts which often are illegal and always abnormal.

Mind a Duality.
"The mind is thus a duality and not a unity, and it must be understood as such if we are to gain a knowledge of its contents which will lead to a correct diagnosis of the conditions responsible for the maladjustment of individuals to their surroundings.

"Both toxins and the chemicals in the blood act selectively upon the various centers of the nervous system. Ether, for example, selectively involves the highest centers of cerebration, raising the threshold to such a point that incoming impulses cause no reaction, thus producing unconsciousness; but at the same time it does not equally affect the nerve cells of the respiratory and circulatory centers, thus permitting those centers to respond to incoming impulses and allowing the person to live.

Blood Disturbance a Factor.
"So we see that a chemical disturbance in the blood may affect the functional activity of one or more centers of the brain, making them either more unstable, or stable. This brings us to consideration of the effect of such disturbances upon our actions.

"Perceptions and conceptions, formed in the intellectual side of the brain, send impulses to the emotional side. If these impulses pass the threshold of functional activity in the emotional centers, wave of feeling, or emotion, results. If, through a chemical disturbance of the blood, the threshold of functional activity of the cell groups of the emotional centers has been selectively lowered, the wave of feeling may be so strong as to wipe out entirely all restraining influences coming from the intellectual side of the brain, and make the emotional the motivating impulse in the person's mental make-up.

"In persons of normal emotional make-up unreasonable reactions may be prevented through inhibitions coming from the intellectual side of the brain. In persons of unstable emotional make-up, intellectual inhibitions may be felt, but if the wave of feeling is strong enough the person may not even be conscious of the inhibition. The wave of feeling simply wipes out the mental attributes of judgment, of right, and of thought of consequences and precipitates the impulsively inspired action.

"It is apparent that, if through tests we can find a chemical disturbance in the blood of persons of obvious unstable emotional make-up we can lay hands on the seat of the disturbance in most cases and help them. In many of the cases examined at the Post-Graduate hospital chemical disturbance was found, and in more than half of these cases the cause was traced directly to certain of the internal secretory glands.

"This has been accomplished through only a few blood tests which have been evolved. New tests are being worked on constantly, and the hope is to narrow the field until we can lay a finger on the seat of all emotional disturbances.

"The large number of cases examined have given sufficient data to show a connection between emotional types and a disturbing of definite glands, and the attempt now is to establish a definite cause for each criminal type.

"Necessarily the treatment varies in every case. It consists in most cases in raising the threshold of functional activity by chemical substances which prevent excessive stimulation of the internal secretory glands and by neutralizing the effects of certain excessive secretions by introducing counterbalancing substances.

Key Has Been Found.
"The principles of the counterbalancing substance are found in animal glands, but these for the most part also remain to be determined with any degree of precision.

"Where the disturbance is of thyroid origin, methods have been fairly well worked out, and there has been some success with suprarenal unbalances, but the pituitary and other glands have not yet revealed their secrets.

"Based on the rapid strides made since this particular study was begun in 1912, there seems to be no limit to the possibilities which the research of the next few years may open. The key may be safely said to have been found and the lock turned; it remains to discover what lies beyond in definite methods of diagnosis and treatment.

WHEN MOTHER WAS A GIRL
My mother says when she was just my age
She always did what she was told to do;
She never sulked, nor stamped her feet with rage--
(I think her memory must be bad, don't you?)
At breakfast time her hair was always brushed,
Her face and neck and ears were clean and sweet;
But when you oversleep you are too rushed
To make yourself so very, very neat.
She says of course she loved Grimm's Fairy Tales,
But though geography was just as nice;
She really loved to practice chords and scales;
She never ran away from dogs and mice
She says they never spanked her more than once
For making just the same mistake (like me);
But if that's so, why am I such a dunce?
Her memory must be bad, it seems to me
--Marie L. Eglinton in New York Times.

THE WATCHER
A woman there, at the old home-gate;
A star in the deep blue dome;
And it's long to wonder, and long to wait:
"Are the children coming home?"
A weary watch for a woman to keep! --
She wants to sing them to sleep.

Was it today that they went away,
Or yonder--back in the years,
Leaving her, still for their coming to pray,
And dream God saw her tears?
Can the homeless Night, where the shadows creep,
Sing the loved children to sleep?

She will not think that they sleep afar
In high or lowly place;
That in Life's last Night, God sent a star,
With a dream of a mother's face.
"They are children still"--so her fancies roam--
"And Night will call them home!"

Praying for unreturning feet
That have passed high portals through!
The sleep of God for your brave and sweet
Who died for home and you?
With everlasting Love they rest
As once--on a mother's breast.
--Frank L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

Tess--Jack says my mouth is the prettiest he has ever seen. Bill--Indeed? Well, I'll put mine up against it any time. --California Pelican.

MARKETING BY PARCEL POST
Not All Farm Products Lend Themselves to Practice--Saving Can Be Made With Some.

While it may be attractive to a city dweller to believe that he can have a vegetable garden grown for him 100 miles or 150 miles away, place his orders for the cost of a stamp, and have the produce delivered at his door, it should be remembered the United States department of agriculture points out that not all farm products lend themselves to direct marketing by parcel post. Usually it is impracticable to market such heavy products as potatoes by parcel post, whereas eggs, butter, sausage, poultry, many vegetables, and nut meats may frequently be shipped with profit and at a saving to the purchaser. In general the greater the value per pound the more favorable is the chance for direct marketing.

NATURE SELF-PRUNES TREES
Pruning is Often Paying Practice in Farm Timber Tracts of Valuable Small Pines.

When trees are properly spaced, nature "self prunes" the lower branches. But in farm timber tracts of small pines and with valuable kinds of trees, pruning is often a paying practice, say forestry specialists of the United States department of agriculture, if it is done during the slack time of winter.

SEED HOUSES ARE RELIABLE
Occasionally Concern Found That Cannot Resist Temptation of Mixing Grades.

The majority of the seed houses are reliable and trustworthy, but occasionally a concern cannot resist the temptation of mixing common, inferior and good seed together and selling it as first-class grade.

One of the Great Unborn
One day a lady noticed a little boy seated on a doorstep. Going up to him she said: "Well, my little chap, how is it you are sitting outside on the doorstep, when I see through the window all the other young folks inside playing games and having a good time? Why aren't you inside joining in the fun?"
"Oh, I'm in this game all right," replied the boy. "They're playing at being married, and I'm the baby."
"But what are you doing out here?"
"Waiting to go in. You see, I ain't born yet."--Dallas News.

New South Wales Premier Wool State of the World

Australia is the chief producer of fine wool, and New South Wales is the greatest wool-producing State of Australia.

At the end of June, 1917, the New South Wales flocks contained nearly 35,200,000 sheep. (The same year, the entire United States, second country of the world in sheep-raising, had only 47,616,000 head of sheep.) The wool clip of New South Wales in 1917 totaled 270,525,000 lbs., "in the grease," worth about $82,000,000 to the growers. The same year 22,088,432 lbs. of mutton were exported from New South Wales.

The State had 2,766,000 cattle in 1917 and 734,000 horses. Meat is transported, at low cost, from New South Wales to the world's markets in large, refrigerated ocean steamers.

The great factor in low cost production of meat and wool, in addition to the large areas of suitable land, is the mild climate. It never freezes, except in the highest mountains--fodder grows the year around--hence farm animals are raised without the necessity of providing barns and other shelters, and without the labor and cost of winter-feeding from mow or granary. Such a gift of nature puts the ranchman ("station-owner") of New South Wales beyond the pale of competition. The results show in the tremendous growth of pastoral wealth in New South Wales.

Those Thin Partitions
Mr. and Mrs. Newbride had at last obtained a villa in the suburbs, and Mr. Newbride was hanging the pictures. There was a certain photograph of his wife which he decided must go up, but which was too small to suspend from the rail by a cord. He thereupon got a substantial nail and hammered it into the wall. There came a knock at the door.
"It's Mr. Nexdor," said the wife, running to the window. "Your hammering has disturbed him."
Mr. Newbride hastened to apologize.

"Oh, I don't mind the noise," replied Mr. Nexdor, cheerily. "I only came to ask if I might hang a picture on the other side of the nail."

Beyond Expression
An elderly lady was questioning the ex-artilleryman. "And what was the most terrible sight you witnessed in the war?" she asked.
"Well, it was like this," replied the soldier. "We had just spotted a German machine gun nest with about 12 enemy gunners that were holding up our advance. We located the nest and put the first shot right in the middle of the Jerries."
"How dreadful!" interrupted the old lady, "did it kill them all?"
"No'm," replied the soldier, sadly, "it was a dud."--The American Legion Weekly.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER
It's mercury! Attacks the bones, salivates and makes you sick.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone--a perfect substitute for calomel.
It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.
Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.
Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel--your money is waiting for you.--Adv.

Club Picnic at Gilroy

A most delightful and unique picnic lunch was enjoyed by the Pundita Circle at the home of Mrs. H. A. Watrous, near Gilroy, May 26.

A merry and congenial coterie of forty ladies and gentlemen assembled around the bountifully spread tables, and did ample justice to all of the delicious repast the ladies had provided.

After the luncheon the gentlemen held a lengthy conversation (whether literary or scientific they did not announce) under the fall shady trees, while the ladies adjourned to the living rooms to hold their business meeting and program for the afternoon.

The program opened with "Thoughts from the C. F. W. C. convention at Ukiah," by Mrs. H. A. Watrous. The thoughts were deep and serious, but told in Mrs. Watrous' humorous style, were very entertaining.

Mrs. F. C. Candee read a well-written paper, "The History of Gilroy." Mrs. D. C. Winslow read an original poem, "Santa Clara Valley Outlook," which she had written many years ago, but was just as applicable to the Santa Clara Valley of today, and very appropriate to this occasion.

Three poems, read by Mrs. Watrous, with short biographies of the authors, were: (a) "Wild Flowers," Marietta Agnes Fitzgerald; (b) "Dreams," Lydia F. Augney, music accompaniment, Intermezzo Cavalleria Rusticana; (c) "Our Flag," Sarah Helen Dryden.

A musical record, "Stars and Stripes Forever," as played by Sousa's band, finished the program.

Mrs. Watrous, as hostess, was assisted by Mrs. J. W. White and Miss Sadie White, of Gilroy.

The afternoon waned the members of the Circle and their families regretfully said their adieus, wishing they could stay longer with the hospitable host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Watrous.

The next and last meeting of the club year will be held at the home of Mrs. Hanger, June 2.

The complimentary remarks passed by those who were privileged to see it, speak most strongly for the work of the teachers.

Death of Mary Moulton

Miss Mary Moulton passed away at the home of her mother on Johnson Avenue, Tuesday after an illness of several months.

Her passing comes as a double sorrow following so closely the death of her father, the late S. A. Moulton. The family is one of the oldest and most highly respected of the valley. She had, until her illness, been an efficient teacher in the San Jose schools, of which city she was a native daughter.

Miss Josephine Moulton came home from Long Beach last week to be with her sister the last days.

The heartfelt sympathy of their friends is extended the bereaved ones in their hours of sorrow.

Death of Mrs. King

The sad news of the death of Mrs. A. W. King of Oakland on Monday was received here this week. Her death was very sudden as the result of a paralytic stroke, and came as a shock to her many friends.

Mrs. King lived in Campbell for nearly five years, when Mr. King conducted a candy business here, going to Oakland about three years ago.

She is survived by her husband, A. W. King; son, Leon Horton; sisters, Mrs. J. Habart of Oakland, and Mrs. Anna Stokes and brother, Henry Nichols of Tremonton, Utah.

Interment was made at Oakland yesterday from the home of her sister, Mrs. Habart.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. of Campbell held an interesting meeting with Mrs. Hill and Miss Marshman, Friday, May 21, with the president in the chair.

The usual devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Hill. During the business hour a letter was read from the state president, Mrs. Dorr, regarding the Harris act, the election of congressmen and U. S. senator. A letter was also read from Mrs. Perkins, national director of Child Welfare work by the W. C. T. U., explaining the occasional need of special material and friendly comfort to expectant mothers; asking local unions to become "Big Sisters" to such. It was voted that Campbell union co-operate with the community nurse in the work for mother and babe, as occasion requires.

The Japanese question was discussed with much interest by Mrs. Wilson. The superintendent of legislation and petition, Mrs. Farley, was directed to write to Hon. A. J. Wallace regarding his stand upon the matter.

The union accepted an invitation from the Los Gatos W. C. T. U. to be their guests on Tuesday, June 15, when it is hoped a large number may be able to attend.

Card of Thanks

We appreciate the kindness of our friends during the long illness of mother, and during our time of sorrow. Campbell is exceedingly kind.
